

The Glaucoma Service Staff of Wills Eye Hospital invites you to

The 27th Annual Glaucoma Conference GLAUCOMA 2006

Appropriate, Individualized Care of Persons with Glaucoma Prevents Disability

February 3-4, 2006
Wills Eye Hospital Philadelphia, PA

Hosted by
Glaucoma Service Staff of Wills Eye Hospital
George L. Spaeth MD, Director and Program Chair

We are pleased to announce our annual glaucoma conference being held this year at Wills Eye Hospital in Philadelphia. The conference is designed for the general ophthalmologist as well as the glaucoma specialist and will focus on the individual patient. Updates on various glaucoma diagnosis, treatment, and surgical procedures will be included. In addition, sessions are scheduled for "practice pearls and what makes an ophthalmic practice work" and a session on case presentation which we encourage attendees to bring challenging or good teaching cases to present. The program will have ample time for panel discussion and questions and answers.

Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this conference, participants should be able to:

- Give an overview of the effect of glaucoma
- Critically evaluate new diagnostic methods
- Identify appropriate, individualized care of the glaucoma patient
- Discuss latest medicinal therapy and studies
- Describe and evaluate glaucoma surgical procedures, including new experimental surgery

Registration fees

$200 Practicing Physicians
$100 Residents and Fellows (with Program Chair letter)
$100 Wills Alumni (Residents and Fellows)
The fee includes scientific sessions, breakfast, lunch and cocktail reception.
